Tegel appoints Investor Relations Manager

Leading poultry producer Tegel Group Holdings Limited (Tegel) has appointed Ms Aleida White to the role of Investor Relations Manager.

Ms White has extensive investor relations management experience across a number of organisations, including Merlin Consulting in New Zealand and FTI Consulting in Sydney, a global advisory firm in which she provided expert investor relations advice to a wide range of listed companies across the Asia Pacific Division.

Prior to this Ms White worked with Old Mutual PLC in London as Group Investor Relations Manager for five years. Further experience in the accounting field saw London based roles with Canon Europe, Siemens Business Services Media, Unilever PLC and Morgan Stanley.

Chairman, James Ogden says Ms White's extensive investor relations experience will greatly assist the organisation with its focused growth strategy.

"We are looking to grow our business domestically and in offshore markets," says Mr Ogden. "Aleida's local and international experience will greatly support these goals and strengthen the provision of information and relations with our investor community."

About Tegel

Tegel Group Holdings Limited (NZX/ASX: TGH) processes approximately 50 million birds per year, across vertically integrated operations in Auckland, Christchurch and New Plymouth. It is New Zealand's leading poultry producer, processing approximately half of New Zealand's poultry, and also manufactures and markets a range of other processed meat products. Tegel produces a range of products across its core business (e.g. fresh and frozen whole chickens, fillets and portions), and value added convenience products (e.g. fresh value added, cooked and smoked small goods and frozen further processed products), which are sold through three key sales channels domestically (retail grocery, foodservice / industrial and quick-service restaurants), and in selected channels in international markets. Its brands are Tegel, Rangitikei and Top Hat.
